Mrs. Ferguson Stands Her Ground, But Insists That the Legislature Should Make An Investigation-Evenest Herboth Who Has Had Charge of Sunday School, Writes.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In reoly to Mrs. Dr. Ferguson's remarks about the deprayity of the state reform school, will you kindly allow space for the following, the writer having had charge of the Sanday school at the institution for about two and a half years, and living in the vicinity of the school, has failed to find the school in such a immentable condition as Mrs. Ferguson asserts. In her mind she is probably thinking about some case seven or eight years ago, under former management. The present state board, as well as the officers of the school, court just such an investigation as Mrs. Ferguson auggests. The writer has also known of two cases of genuine reformation that have come within his observation.

which appears in the local columns of today's issue of Tae Heraid, in which she charges the state industrial school as being a "hot-bed of vice," 'a training school for criminals," etc.

The undersigned, the board of trustees of that institution take this opportunity of donying the truthfulness of the charges made by the lady, and publicly call upon her to produce any competent evidence she may have that will in the least substantiate the charges she makes. The board is recovered to hold a meeting at any time convenient to the lady, and will at that time expect her to produce her evidence tending to show in the least that the industrial school, during the incumbency of the tresent board and management, is a "training school for criminals" or "a hot-bed of vice," and the board also expects that the lady will either produce her evidence ar retract the statement attributed to her, and which appears in the public press.

How It Came to Be Granted to the Raven Company.

RAWLINS OBJECTED TO IT

AND GAVE SOUND REASONS FOR HIS POSITION.

It Is Illegal, Mr. Rawlins Holds, and Not a Good Business Proposition Either On the Part of the Government-Walker F. Gunter Appointed Assistant County Attorney.

The exact status of the lease of certain glisonite, elaterite and wurtzelite lands on the Uhitah reservation and how the lease came to be granted to the Raven Minling company and approved by the secretary of the interior over the objection and protest of Senator Raw-lins is a matter of interest to the people of Utah generally. Mr. Rawlins yesterday, at the request of a Herald reporter for giformation on the matter, said that he was opposed to the granting of the lease, first, because it was illegal, as according to a decision of the supreme court of the United States the Indians had not the power to lease mineral lands on their reservation, and because it gave the leases, to the exclusion of all others, an opportunity to prospect the lands for other minerals than the three mentioned. After the leases was made between the Raven Mining company and the Indians and was under consideration by the secretary to delay his decision as to whether he would approve the lease or not until Mr. Rawlins could have an interview which followed it became evident that the secretary had made up his mind to approve the lease.

The Raven Mining company is the successor of the American Asphaltum company, which latter company obtained a lease in 1852 to 246,000 acres of glisoulite, claterite and wurlsellte land. Secretary Hoke Smith approved the Secretary Hoke Smith approved the lease on certain conditions, which conditions were not fulfilled by the soft to Hoke Smith, attempted to cancel the lease, because of the non-fulfillnent of the conditions imposed. The company brought suft in the District of Columbia to have Secretary Bliss restrained from canceling the lesse. During the pendency of the action the interested parties asked for a new lease on other conditions, which had been agreed to by the findians, and the same warsub mitted to Secretary Bliss for his approval by the Ravon Mining company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company, the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the successors in interest of the American Asphaltum company in the success

It is quite generally believed that the glisonite, elaterite and wurtzeilte are insignificant, and that the real benefit the leases would derive would be from the chance to prospect for other minerals, in the hope that some way could be devised by which the other minerals, if discovered might be turned to account of the minerals. if discovered, might be turned to ac-

GUNTER APPOINTED

County Attorney-elect Furnam, in mature consideration, came to the conclusion that the business in his department was extensive anough to require he appointment of another assistant in addition to Mr. Ray Van Cott. Mr. Furnam at first thought he could are done without any additional mastrince, but found that such, after County Attorney Van Cott's retirement, would be Impossible.

There were nuite a purple of Attorney Van Cotta reirement, would be impossible.

There were quite a number of applicants for the place, and yesterday Mr. Putnam decided to effer it to Attorney W. F. Gunter, who has accepted. The selection is a very good one, and it is a foregone conclusion that the duffes devolving upon Mr. Cunter will be well and canecientiously discharged. Mr. Gunter is an albe young lawyer, who has practiced its profession at the har of titah for over seven years with marked success. He has built up a very good gractice and is considered a rising man in his prafession.
